

Experience the journey of a lifetime

A Learning Journey to develop your skills in Systems Thinking & Sustainability Leadership

Develop your sustainability leadership skills and deepen your systems-thinking with our unique immersion programmes.

About The Programme

Routes to Resilience learning journeys are hosted in inspirational settings where you can experience the principles of sustainability and circularity in action.

During this intensive programme, you will engage with thought leaders and experts in biomimicry, the circular economy, complexity theory and sustainability, learn more about our interconnectedness with the world, understand the core concepts underpinning sustainability principles and discover how you can take action to address challenges in your own home or community.

Upcoming Learning Journeys

Sasaab Luxury Lodge | The Safari Collection | Kenya
7 - 12 April 2019 | Years 10 - 12

GROOTBOS

*Private Nature Reserve ******

Grootbos Private Nature Reserve | South Africa
14 - 19 August 2019 | Years 11 - 13

Developed by experts in sustainability education

Routes to Resilience Learning Journeys have been developed by the Impact Trust in collaboration with Cambridge Institute for Sustainability Leadership, SA. Learning Journeys could meet the requirements of a Silver Level Duke of Edinburgh/President's Award Adventurous Journey.

Cost: $2500/£2000 inclusive of 6 days/5 nights of luxury accommodation with all meals and refreshments, a dedicated curriculum with 5 full days of interactive workshops, seminars, excursions, game tracking, nature walks and more. Student notes, workbook folder, reflection journal, water bottle, peak and rainjacket for each participant provided on arrival. One dedicated faculty per 4 participants with a diverse team of experts active in a range of disciplines providing 24 hour support and pastoral care. Excludes optional donation for community projects supported by the Lodges.

Places are limited.

To apply, email info@routes2resilience.org
www.routes2resilience.org